

MINERS WILL TALK OF THE SCHEDULE.

MEETING IN INDIANAPOLIS IS CALLED TO ORDER.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 20.—Nearly 1,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America have gathered here for the thirtieth annual convention, which began at 10 o'clock this forenoon in Tomlinson Hall. Delegates are here from twenty-four States representing every bituminous and every anthracite coal field in the United States.

Ben Tillet, the famous English labor leader, who is in this country looking up labor conditions arrived last night and is to be the guest of President Mitchell. He will speak to the miners Wednesday or Thursday. His address will be one of the features of the convention.

The convention will continue until January 30th when the joint conference with the operators of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana will begin. This conference will probably last for ten days.

It was the understanding that delegates are preparing to ask for an advance that will be equivalent to an all around increase of at least ten percent. Along with this report, however, is another to the effect that many operators have determined to take a stand for a reduction of 10 per cent. on the ground that they have had an unprofitable winter and that the prospects for the coming year are not bright enough to warrant a continuation of the present scale. It is not believed there will be a lockout as the miners and operators of the four States that signed the competitive scale have been able to reach an agreement during the last year without much trouble.

The convention was called to order today by President Mitchell and after the delegates were seated the report of the credentials was called for.

TARIFF BILL FOR PHILIPPINES.

BY A STRICT PARTY VOTE THE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THE MEASURE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Senate Committee on Philippines has agreed to report the House Philippine tariff bill with amendments.

The report was ordered by a strict party vote. The bill was amended as heretofore agreed upon, being a reduction of 25 per cent on goods from the Philippines to the United States, with an additional reduction of the export tax charged in the Philippines on products sent out of the islands to the United States. The amendments presented a substitute which will be reported to the Senate. It provides that there shall be temporary free trade between the United States and the Philippines until a stable government has been established, when the President may direct the withdrawal from the islands, the United States to retain such military and naval stations as are deemed necessary. The Philippines are declared to be foreign territory by the minority bill from the passage of the act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Senate Committee on Pensions today ordered a favorable report on Senator Hanna's bill to grant a pension of $5,000 a year to Mrs. H. S. McKinley.

TRIED TO CUT AN ALAMEDA POLICE OFFICER WITH A BIG KNIFE.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 20.—Early this morning while arresting a drunken man and his wife, Police Officer Brampton came near having his throat cut.

About 2 o'clock this morning while Brampton was on his beat on Railroad avenue he heard a woman scream for help. The officer made a hurried trip to the corner of Bay street and Railroad avenue, where he found Mary Boyd and her husband. Both were intoxicated and the man was trying to lead the woman, who was resisting. As the officer ran up to where the husband and wife were struggling, the former dropped the woman and ran towards the policeman, at the same time brandishing an ugly looking knife. The officer was taken completely by surprise and retreated until he could get his revolver from under his coat. When at last the pistol was placed under the drunken man's chin he dropped his arms, but would not give up the knife, and kept edging up to the officer to strike him.

Seeing the man meant trouble, Brampton watched his chance and landed a heavy right swing on Boyd's jaw. The latter dropped to the ground and the officer secured the knife. When Boyd came to his senses he was handcuffed to his wife and the two were taken to the city jail. This morning the woman was released on $10 bail, but the man still occupies a cell. The woman was released from the county jail last night at 12:30 and had become intoxicated on her way home. The couple reside on Everett street in this city.

Officer Brampton, who made the capture, is suffering from a dislocated thumb, the result of putting Boyd out of business. Charges of disturbing the peace will be placed against Boyd and his wife.

PROFESSOR HOWISON AND THE REPORTERS.

(See Berkeley News in Today's Tribune.)

Great Howison. Why are the newspaper men so communicative. Cast out. Rejected. And otherwise placed under ban Or your august displeasure? In what manner? What indignities have they made ridiculous? Have they mocked? Or of your wise saws? Have they been deficient in respect? Is your solemn exposition of the eternal verities? It is evident you are moved, deeply moved. Is the light shaft moved by the idle wind. But wherefore? Are you paid by the State of California? To decide the calling? That shall be pursued By those who listen In admiring awe To the profound wisdom And learning That comes from your lips? Are you sure that newspaper men Care the malediction Of a dissolute linker For your Anathema? Nay, Professor, they writhe With merriment And at your indirect. They are not like the Jackdaws of Rhode Island And shrink, And let their feathers fall

Nor go lame You have With bell, book and candle Declared them unregenerate. Who sent you to The Judgment seat? O wise dignified Judge? Do you know A lost soul When you see one? Did you ever See one? Aren't you a trifle hasty? Or a bit testy? Or just a scolding Old humbug? Don't get the idea in your head, Professor. That you are St. Peter. And that your lecture room Is heaven. Some of your students say It is hell. Professor. You would pass for a wise man If you were deaf And dumb. And didn't imagine You had the weight Of the Universe On your shoulders. And carried the key Of salvation In your pocket. Keep cool, Professor. And keep Your shirt on. And you will be happier, And not look So foolish. Wag your ears more, And your tongue less. And You Will Have More friends.

THE HORSE REPORTER.

REAL WAR WILL NOW BE WAGED IN BATANGAS DISTRICT.

Uncle Sam Will No Longer Tolerate Traitors in His Camp—Will Fight to a Finish.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Having failed, after the years' struggle, in subduing the insurrection in Batangas Province, which lies just south of Manila, and having satisfied himself that lenient treatment of the insurgents is productive of no good results, General G. Franklin Bell, the military commander in that Province, has determined on the enforcement of the law in the most vigorous and determined fashion. It involves reconcentration in a modified form, the application of martial law in all directions and the unrelenting pursuit and punishment of the natives who act as spies and traitors to the United States. All this appears from a long report to the War Department, just published.

The reconcentration order is dated at Batangas December 8th last. In substance it provides for the establishment of a zone around the garrisons, into which the friendly inhabitants are to be requested to come under penalty of confiscation and destruction of their property. This order is followed by a long circular by General Bell to his station commanders, commenting on existing conditions and giving them advice how to proceed. It begins with the statement that he shares in the general conviction that the insurrection continues because the wealthier ones do not really want peace. He says it is regrettable that the innocent must suffer with the guilty, but the greater good to the greatest number can be best brought about by putting a quick end to the insurrection. Therefore he directs the application of General order No. 10, United States, which practically regards an insurgent as a guerrilla and outside the pale of civilized warfare and subject to the death penalty wherever such insurgent does not engage continuously in the war and observe all the rules of war. However, it provided that there shall be no executions without the approval of a superior officer.

Commanding officers are specially enjoined to encourage young officers in hunting down the insurgents, and it is pointed out that there is no just cause for exceptional caution or apprehension in attacking insurgent bodies wherever found. At any rate, under existing conditions, legitimate chances should be accepted, says General Bell, as excessive caution will do the army incalculable harm. The best defense against the insurgents, he says, is to assume a vigorous offensive movement, as to retire in the presence of the enemy is hazardous.

A special injunction is laid on the commanders to hunt down their spies and secret contacts to the rebellion, and of whom will be found among municipal officers. General Bell says that Malvar and other insurgent leaders have dictated elections of all town officials in Batangas and Laguna and these town councils meet and pass resolutions denouncing the insurrection while secretly informing the insurgents that this is done under compulsion and supplying them with information. Therefore General Bell declares that traitors should not be tolerated; every inhabitant should be either an active friend or be classed as an enemy, and acts not be more than the best. Chief and most among the class of disloyal persons, he says, are the native priests. General Bell declares that he is not at liberty but once convinced that every one in Batangas and Laguna Provinces is a secret enemy of the Government and in active sympathy with the insurgents, it is frequently impossible, he says, to obtain evidence against influential persons as long as they are at liberty, but once convinced that the apprehension and punishment of one individual is of greater importance than the punishment of a hundred ignorant persons. The wealthy and influential, he says, are those among whom the most energetic efforts should be directed.

SANTA FE TRAINS IN COLLISION.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 20.—A special dispatch to the State Journal from Syracuse, Kas., says: Passenger trains Nos. 6 and 7 of the Santa Fe road came together fifteen miles east of here in a head-on collision at 4:15 this morning.

One report says four cars are burned and no one injured, while another version is that the east-bound train is cut in two and the west-bound train is badly damaged. Particulars are hard to obtain.

WAR DECLARED AGAINST THE HEALERS.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS OPPOSED BY HEALTH OFFICER VON ADELUNG.

From present indications the Board of Health intends to wage war on Christian Science practitioners who treat contagious diseases to the exclusion of a duly licensed physician.

Christian Scientists throughout the United States will watch the promised ensuing developments in the warfare with interest, as this city is known to have a large number of the sect named among its population.

Health Officer Edward von Adelung, acting for the Board, today sent the following communication to District Attorney Allen:

"Oakland, Cal., January 19, 1902. J. J. Allen, District Attorney of Alameda County, California—Dear Sir: As executive officer of the Board of Health of the city of Oakland, California, and acting under special instructions from that Board, it is my official duty to report to you the following serious facts relating to the death of Majorie Abbie Slater, and to request that you kindly inform me, in writing, what infraction of the law has been made in the case cited, what action should be now taken and what means you would advise the Board of Health to employ for the purpose of avoiding similar occurrences in the future.

"Majorie Abbie Slater, a girl aged ten (10) years, residing with her sister and mother at 1739 Ninth avenue, East Oakland, contracted scarlet fever in December last, about December 20, 1901, the mother, a strong believer in Christian Science, called in to attend the sick girl a Mrs. Zebulune Schaffer, who reported the case as scarlet fever, to the Health Officer on December 21, 1901. The house was placarded in the usual manner on the same date.

"On January 1, 1902, the girl died, and notice of the same was given to the Health Officer on the same date. As no burial permit may be issued without a legally signed death certificate, and no licensed physician had seen the case before death, the only person qualified to sign the death certificate was the Health Officer. The coroner was therefore referred. The coroner having signed the death certificate, the remains were interred within twenty-four hours after death as required by the law relating to contagious diseases.

"The coroner's death certificate named scarlet fever as the cause of death.

"During the month of December, 1901, there were reported to the Health Officer several cases of scarlet fever, the only death being that of Majorie Abbie Slater.

"Mrs. Zebulune Schaffer is not a licensed physician, but is a professional Christian Science practitioner, practicing in this city, and accepting fees for her services. Her treatment of the case was the result of her religious belief.

"The remains of the deceased child were inspected by two licensed physicians who held the opinion that the child died of scarlet fever, and that the cause was the treatment of the child by the Christian Science practitioner.

Governor is Killed in the Battle and a Steamer is on Fire—A Fierce Contest With the Revolutionists.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Secretary of the Navy has received the following telegram from Captain Meade, commanding the United States battleship Philadelphia, dated Panama today:

"The insurgent steamer Padilla attacked the Lautaro yesterday morning at close quarters. Crew has deserted her. Is now on fire and sinking."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The State Department has received the following telegram from Consul General Gudgeon, dated Panama, today:

"Fighting in bay. Governor killed. Excitement great."

Line steamer Lautaro, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamer Chicuito and the Panama Canal Company's steamer Boyaca. The first named steamer was seized by General Alban and the other two have been chartered by the Colombian government.

As this dispatch is being sent three shots have just passed over the Chicuito and she has answered with several shots. They fell close to the Padilla, which is now on fire.

The guns at Los Bovedas are also firing at the rebel ships.

The government forces are throwing up entrenchments. The United States cruiser Philadelphia is close to the scene of the fighting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Panama Railway Company today received a telegram from Colon saying that three insurgents and two government vessels had been sunk in the naval engagement in Panama harbor. The cablegram came from Colonel J. R. Shaler, general superintendent at Colon for the Panama Railway Company.

SAN JOSE MURDERER WILL NOW BE TAKEN TO SAN QUENTIN.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 20.—Nolberto Coronado, convicted of the murder of Frank Narona, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin. Defendant's attorneys obtained a writ of probable cause and Coronado will remain in jail here pending an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The crime for which Coronado was convicted was one of the most atrocious in the annals of crime. Frank Narona, a cripple, had collected $5 in San Jose and was on his way on horseback to his home in New Almaden when he was shot and killed from ambush on a lonely trail and the body afterwards rifled. The evidence was circumstantial and a verdict of murder in the second degree was rendered.

UNCLE SAM! IS THY SERVANT A DOG?

HON. V. H. METCALF STANDS BY THE SOLDIERS.

BY JOSEPH E. BAKER.

The reasons given by Hon. Victor H. Metcalf for opposing the abandonment of the army transport service are unanswerable, but they are far from stating all the arguments against taking such a backward step. Perhaps the dispatches only gave us an excerpt of his views; for Mr. Metcalf generally speaks with a full grasp of his subject and a thorough acquaintance with its details.

Not one sound reason has been advanced for abandoning the transport service, while a score can readily be cited against the proposition. The only excuse offered is that the service is too expensive. Why is it expensive? Because the repairing has been let out to private firms and not done at the Mare Island Navy Yard, which is fully equipped to do the work. Long delays and heavy bills for extras have resulted. The delays on account of the strike were unnecessary, because the Mare Island Yard was working with full force without friction with the men. By withdrawing its work from the navy yard and contracting it out to private yards, the government discriminated against itself and virtually took sides in the local labor controversy; for the strike clause in all the contracts nullified every obligation on the part of the contractors to complete the work on time. The heavy bills for extras would have been avoided had the work been sent to Mare Island.

But if the government were to sell its transports, it would get practically nothing for them—certainly not a tithe of their original cost. Buyers always combine against the Government when it has a sale, just as sellers combine against it when the Government has to buy. The Government has never been able to get anything like a fair price for any ship it has ever sold. It buys at exorbitant figures and sells for a song. To sell the transports would be virtually to give them away.

And what would be the result? Judging by all past experience, the cost of transporting troops and supplies between the United States and the Philippines would be increased instead of lowered. The very men who bought the transports would charge the Government excessive prices for carrying troops and supplies; and in the end the War Department would find that it had only sacrificed the transports to obtain poorer accommodations and costlier service. In emergencies it would have to pay any price that the shipowners would see fit to demand. Then human pity of view, the proposed change is absolutely iniquitous. It would be a crime against the common soldier, especially the sick and wounded returning home from the Philippines. This feature is deeply unpopular with the common soldier and Secretary Root. The transports are fitted up specially to provide the best possible accommodations for the private soldiers. The comfort and convenience of the sick are looked after in the first place. No private company could or would give such accommodations. Gain being the only object, the effort would be to get the most money for the least service that could be rendered. The long voyage through tropic seas in the steerage of commercial ships would be a passage of horrors. Mortality on ship board would be greatly increased, and demands for better accommodations and better treatment would be merely as pretexts for the shipowners to exact more money from the Government.

But the transport service was not inaugurated on the basis of mere cheapness. Its purpose was to provide suitable accommodations for the conveyance of troops and supplies, and to provide the Government with vessels, specially adapted to its uses, that could be called upon at any time to meet the emergencies of military operations carried on five thousand miles from its shores. The comfort of the soldiers is to be considered above cheapness. Incidental cost is not to be counted against military efficiency.

As well might the War Department sell its ambulances, ammunition and baggage wagons, and let the transportation be contracted, as to sell its ships. The government would have to transport and rely upon private shipping firms. On the sea the transports are what the wagon trains are on land. Who figures up the comparative cost of an individual wagon and a private individual would be willing to haul the sick and wounded and camp equipage of an army for less than it costs the Government to do the hauling.

Is thy servant a dog?

Shall the Government treat its fighting men as if they were mere bales of merchandise or horned cattle in figuring out the cost of transporting them? Shall the government treat its fighting men as if they were mere bales of merchandise or horned cattle in figuring out the cost of transporting them? Shall the government treat its fighting men as if they were mere bales of merchandise or horned cattle in figuring out the cost of transporting them?

HUNTING CONVICTS IN THE NORTH.

TEN PRISONERS MADE THEIR ESCAPE FROM FEDERAL PRISON.

TACOMA, Wa., Jan. 20.—A most exciting hunt for ten of the eleven convicts who escaped yesterday from the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, in Puget Sound, a few miles from here, is now in progress.

One man, Frank Moran, alias O'Neil, sent up from Spokane for 8 years for counterfeiting, was captured about midnight by a squad of deputies who were patrolling the shore. Moran slipped out of the timber approaching the water's edge and it is thought was about to attempt to swim to the mainland, one mile distant, when he was taken.

Thirty armed deputies are now scouring the island and two steam launches are patrolling its shores. A launch from the United States Revenue Cutter Manning has just gone to the island with ten heavily armed marines who will take part in the hunt.

McNeil's Island is about five miles long and three miles wide and United States Marshal Ide feels sure that none of the convicts has succeeded in getting to the mainland. The morning was very foggy but if any of the men reached the mainland they did so by swimming or floating on logs. All of the island boats have been accounted for. The escape was planned by Convicts Snyder and Davis, each of whom was shackled for previous attempts at escape. While in the tunnel, leading under ground from their cell, these two fled off the shore.

During the forenoon eight or ten rifle shots have been heard but with what result has not been learned as word can only be received by boat.

WALL COLLAPSED AND BURIED WOMEN.

BELFAST, Jan. 20.—A wall of the Smithfield Flax Mills collapsed today, burying the operatives, who included many women. As this dispatch is sent ten bodies have been extricated from the ruins.

SAYS STORY IS UNTRUE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Col. W. S. Metcalf of Kansas, the President's spokesman of Kansas, Col. Metcalf says the charge against him of ordering a Filipino killed is based on the affidavit of a man who afterward withdrew it. He said that the story is untrue and there will be no difficulty in showing this fact to the Senate, where his nomination as Pension Agent at Kansas is now pending.

PROF. HOWISON WHACKS THE NEWSPAPER MEN.

Says They are Lost Souls and Does Not Want Them in His Classroom.

BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—In a recent lecture before his class in history of philosophy, Professor C. H. Howison took occasion to scold the newspaper men in the following terms:

"We cordially invite graduate students and adults not in the University to visit this course, providing they are not newspaper men. We want no reporters or correspondents. They are lost souls and we want no beings of that description in our classroom, unless they have deeply repented of their sins and have promised to reform."

Professor Howison will not discuss his remarks, which are causing much comment.

BASEBALL GAME.

BERKELEY, Jan. 20.—This afternoon the first baseball game of the season was held at the University of California. Among those who turned out were several alumni who will form a team.

It looks as though the Varsity will have difficulty in securing practice games, as the President's Fund will have no team this year. An effort is being made to have the Olympics form a team.

The first game will be held with St. Mary's team on February 10.

NEW RULES ARE MADE FOR COUNTY INFIRMARY.

Duties of the Various Officials are Laid Down by the Board of Supervisors—Some Good Suggestions are Made.

The following rules for the government of the County Hospital were unanimously adopted today by the Board of Supervisors:

SUPERINTENDENT'S DUTIES.

Section 1. The Superintendent and Resident Physician is the chief executive officer of the County Infirmary, and the head of the institution. He shall have the general superintendence of the buildings and grounds, together with the furniture, fixtures and stock.

He shall have the direction and control of all persons within and belonging to the County Hospital and Infirmary, subject to the approval of the Board of Supervisors, and shall be held responsible for the general conduct of the affairs of the County Infirmary.

He shall exert himself to maintain order and discipline in all departments by causing the rules and regulations to be strictly observed, and taking care that all employees perform their duties faithfully and punctually.

Section 2. No discharge of an employee shall be deemed absolute and final until approved by the Board of Supervisors. But when an employee has been discharged by the Superintendent, said discharge shall operate as a suspension from office of said employee, and he or she shall not perform any of the duties appertaining to his or her position, nor remain in the building or upon the grounds of the institution, until the Board shall act upon said discharge, when, if approved by the Board, said discharge shall go into effect at the date it was made by the Superintendent; but if not so approved, the employee shall immediately resume his or her duties, but shall not draw pay during the time of suspension, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 3. He shall cause to be kept in a suitable book the name, sex, age, place of nativity, residence, civil condition and occupation of each patient received; also the date of reception, of discharge or death; the diagnosis, and as far as possible, the history of the case before admission, together with such facts as are usual in the records of such institutions.

He shall also present a statement of the movements of patients during the month, showing the number received, discharged and those leaving without permission.

At the first meeting of each month of the Board of Supervisors, he shall make a report, exhibiting the receipts and expenditures of the preceding month.

Section 4. The Superintendent and Resident Physician shall perform a regular morning visit to all patients under his charge. He shall see that they have proper food, exercise, clothing and bedding, observing particularly in his daily inspection the temperature and ventilation of the wards.

BOOKKEEPER AND STOREKEEPER.

Section 1. During the temporary absence of the Superintendent, the bookkeeper and storekeeper shall perform his duties and exercise his powers until the Board of Supervisors may appoint an acting Superintendent, exercising such powers as may be approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Section 2. He shall see that the institution is supplied with all necessary supplies, including food, clothing, furniture and fuel, and shall personally receive all goods purchased, and shall be responsible for the care and economical distribution of the same, and the required quality of condition, under written orders from the Superintendent.

He shall be cashier and keep accurate and methodical accounts of all articles from whatever source received, and of all supplies distributed to the several departments of the institution, such accounts exhibiting in detail the number, quantity, weight or measurement of every article, and to whom distributed.

On the receipt of supplies, he shall require a duplicate bill or invoice of the same, to be entered in book provided for that purpose. His books shall be kept in a clear and methodical manner, and shall be balanced at least once a month, and he shall be held responsible for the same.

He shall not order or purchase anything except under the instruction or credit of the Superintendent, or any other officer or employee of the institution, except upon requisition signed by the Superintendent, nor shall he allow any article whatsoever to be received or delivered from the store-room, or the premises without the knowledge or order of the Superintendent.

Section 3. He shall have general management of the store-room, under the direction of the Superintendent, and shall be responsible for the care and economical distribution of all supplies. He shall keep an accurate account by weight, count and measure of everything that passes through his hands in a book for that purpose. He shall not deliver any article from the store except on order from the Superintendent.

He shall file and preserve all orders.

FIRE AT FUNERAL.

HEARTFORD CITY, Ind., Jan. 20.—At the United Brethren Church near Humboldt, while Rev. J. M. Hobbs was preaching a funeral sermon, flames burst through the floor beneath the casket and the church was almost filled with suffocating smoke.

The panic-stricken mourners and friends of the deceased escaped through the windows and the corpse was momentarily rescued from the flames. The men formed a bucket brigade, and the flames were extinguished before the church was totally destroyed. The funeral cortege then proceeded to the cemetery, where the preacher finished the sermon at the grave. The fire was caused by an overheated stove in the basement.

NO CHANCE FOR PEACE.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, in the House of Commons this afternoon said there was no foundation for the report that overtures for peace in South Africa had been made by the Boer forces.

SHERIFF ROGERS TO IDENTIFY JAIL ESCAPES.

Sheriff Oscar Rodgers will probably go to Los Angeles this evening to identify the two men who escaped from the county jail here on Christmas night.

"If they have a strong case against them in Los Angeles," said the Sheriff this morning, "they will probably be tried and sentenced there, where they will probably get twenty years. The most we could give them for jail breaking is five years, and the evidence against them here for burglary is weak."

SELLING LIQUOR AFTER MIDNIGHT.

NO CHANGE IN THE ORDINANCE WHICH IS UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Inquiry develops that there is absolutely nothing in the rumored move to allow the saloons to keep open all night. All the talk originated in the complaint made by a few of the downtown saloon men that some of the all-night restaurants were selling liquor after twelve o'clock. The matter has never been brought up in the Council or in any of the committees. Mayor Barstow is known to be opposed to it, and so are nearly all the Councilmen.

Most of the saloon men would be better off if the closed up at eleven o'clock," said Councilman Schaffer. "If an ordinance should be introduced allowing them to keep open till one o'clock, I will introduce one to close them at eleven. That is what I told the only saloon man that ever spoke to me about it."

"If an ordinance making any change," said Councilman Bishop. The matter has not been discussed seriously that I know of, and I haven't any idea that the talk amounts to anything but gossip. If the restaurants are selling liquor after 12 o'clock the police should put a stop to it. The present ordinance is all right."

"All I know about it," said Councilman Courtwright, "is that two or three saloon men that spoke to me, said that all-night restaurants were selling liquor after 12 o'clock, and they thought they ought to be allowed the same privilege. I told them I would vote for an ordinance allowing them to keep open night if a majority of the Council would favor such a measure. That is all there is to it. The ordinance should be obeyed by all or the restriction removed entirely, but the matter has never been taken up."

RAIN AT BAKERSFIELD.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 20.—The rainfall of Saturday night and Sunday morning was slight in this city and vicinity, merely the surface of the ground being moistened. Those who are depending on rain will reap no benefit and a continuance of the long dry spell is now looked for owing to the fact that the storm has passed and the weather is cold and the sky perfectly clear. In the near future, it is thought, hay prices will go soaring, and those who depend on rains to ensure their crops are much discouraged.

PEOPLE REST IN ALTURAS CASE.

ATTORNEYS FOR THE DEFENDANTS MAKE OPENING STATEMENT TO JURY.

ALTURAS, Cal., Jan. 20.—When the case of the people vs. Brown was called this morning Assistant Attorney-General Post made the somewhat surprising announcement that the People rested—the case and would not recall Witness Morris, who was on the stand Saturday afternoon when the session of court so abruptly ended.

As soon as the first surprise of counsel for the defendant over General Post's announcement wore away, Mr. Spencer arose and asked that Judge Harrington order all the testimony of Morris stricken out on the grounds that it was incompetent, that it was in the nature of a confession and not given voluntarily and that his testimony placed him in the position of an accomplice, and that the defense had not had sufficient opportunity to cross-examine him. The motion was denied.

The Court ruled that the testimony of Morris was distinctly competent, and denied the motion in every particular.

Mrs. Spencer then asked the Court to "advise the jury to find a verdict of not guilty" as the prosecution has not presented sufficient evidence to prove the defendant guilty of the offense charged.

Judge Harrington responded: "I respectfully deny the motion, Mr. Spencer."

The request of the attorneys for the defense, Judge Harrington decided to recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. Baker announced the defense would be prepared to make its opening statement. Mr. Baker stated that the opening statement would be very short.

Habeas corpus proceedings in the case of E. S. Townsend, Orin Townsend, Fred Roberts, Henry Roberts, J. R. Myers, R. L. Nichols, J. W. Leventon and Claude Morris were postponed until tomorrow morning.

We are generally coming to the conviction that it is not so much the enactment of new laws that is needed as the proper interpretation and the enforcement of laws already upon the statute books. According to any common sense interpretation of the term 'medicine' the word must mean the cure, prevention or alleviation of disease. We are glad to see that Judge Green of the Criminal Court of Birmingham has decided that such a definition is valid, that the WAR REVENUE TAXES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee held a private meeting this afternoon to consider what should be done toward reducing the war revenue taxes. This is the first formal step taken by those who will frame a reduction measure, and it marks a line of action. The sentiment among Republican members of the Committee is to be quite general in favor of a reduction.

CREMATION.

The Odd Fellows' Cemetery Association, San Francisco Cal.

To facilitate the incineration of those who believe in it, THE ODD FELLOWS' CEMETERY ASSOCIATION has built the largest and best equipped crematory in the United States, at the corner of Point Loma avenue, San Francisco. The interior office (in charge of Mr. W. E. Chesley) is at 1001 Broadway, Oakland. The crematory is practically a self-sustaining institution, in reducing the cost of disposing of, and preserving the remains of, our associates. It is a service to every one who believes in cremation; a niche in the Columbarium represents an eternal home for the ashes, and a surety that the owner's ashes will rest in that spot forever. Having no stockholders to eat the profits, or be assessed to make up losses, or be secured by the Association's debts, the Board of Trustees are conducting the business of the Association on the broadest lines of reciprocity—the more business we do, the less it will cost our patrons—and we hope in time, by increase of patronage, to reduce the price of cremation far below the present cost. Incineration ought to be a Governmental function; until it becomes so, our association will endeavor to do that duty with the least possible expense to its patrons. PADDED HER FIGURE OUT OF PROPORTION.

The trial of the divorce suit of Miss Abbott against E. E. Abbott, a Berkeley attorney, who began before Judge Greene this afternoon. Mrs. Abbott, who brought the suit, did not appear to answer the cross-complaint of her husband, but the story of the husband was heard by the court. Mrs. Abbott denied the statement that he had abused his wife, and said that the worst thing he had done was to tell her that he called her a fool about her clothing.

"What did you object to about her clothing?" asked Judge Greene.

"She padded her figure out of all proportion," answered Abbott.

Then, in answer to Attorney A. L. Keith, Abbott told his wife he had abused him. She attacked him with a hatchet, he declared, and several times he was heard by the court. He was to jump out of an upper story window, and he was compelled to use force to prevent her from doing it. She frequently accused him of lying.

Abbott was granted a divorce.

A BIG RAILWAY SCHEME.

Recent movements in the railroad world give a special interest to the road that Senator Clark and his associates are building from Salt Lake to Los Angeles. It is stated Clark has assurances of an Eastern outlet over either the Denver & Rio Grande or the Burlington.

There can be no reasonable doubt of this. So astute a man as Senator Clark would not do so foolish a thing as to build a mere connecting line across a desert country only to find himself bottled up without an outlet. Not only do the circumstances indicate that Senator Clark has assurance of an outlet, but they point to the likelihood that some one of the great railway combinations is back of his enterprise.

Which one? We know it is not the Harriman Syndicate. There are only two left—the Goulds and the Morgan-Rockefeller combination. The indications plainly point to the Goulds for the Burlington has not yet reached Ogden. It must build through a long stretch of rugged mountain country to meet the Clark road. But the Gould system already reaches Salt Lake and Ogden over the Rio Grande Western. From there it reaches to Pittsburgh by way of the Denver & Rio Grande, Missouri Pacific and Washash, having recently secured an entrance into the Iron metropolis.

The recent movements alluded to indicate that Gould has at last secured an outlet to the Atlantic seaboard over the West Virginia Central and the Western Maryland. This extends his line from Salt Lake to Baltimore. The Clark road would give him a through line from ocean to ocean right through the center of the country.

There is significance in this for Central California, and especially Oakland and San Francisco. A glance at the map will show that it is only a short cut from the Clark line in Southern Nevada to the San Joaquin Valley. A line to the bay of San Francisco would give the Gould system connections with all the important Pacific Coast points, as well as a commanding position in transcontinental traffic. If the Clark road is destined to be a part of the Gould system, then it is a moral certainty that a connection will be built into San Francisco, most likely by way of Oakland. It will be interesting to watch developments. It is alleged that Gould has already demarcated a share of the transcontinental traffic. This shows which way the wind blows.

THE SPRECKELS' LETTER.

In view of the fact that he is proprietor of the Call, which has been strenuously objecting to a reduction of the tariff duty on Cuban sugar, John D. Spreckels' letter to the Ways and Means Committee naturally caused some surprise. He broadly states that the present duty is in excess of protective needs, and says a reduction can be made without injury to the beet sugar industry. How much reduction can be made without injurious results he does not state, and he advances arguments implying that either beet sugar producers whose factories are situated farther inland have still less need of protection than the Spreckels factories, which are located near San Francisco.

Mr. Spreckels owns the Call individually, but he is only a part owner of the sugar factories, Claus Spreckels being the heaviest stockholder. The letter to the Ways and Means Committee was written as coming from the sugar company and not from John D. Spreckels personally. It may not represent his individual views; nevertheless the statements presented as facts are damaging to the cause of the beet sugar men. The letter itself is a voluntary admission that the tariff on raw sugar is unnecessarily high, and is practically an argument for reduction.

It has been inferred that the Spreckels Company was in accord with the other beet sugar producers in the effort to prevent reduction of the duty on foreign sugar. The attitude of the Call strengthened this belief, for the Call championed the cause of the domestic growers ably and eloquently. There is no reason to doubt the sincerity of Mr. Spreckels in this matter, and the most rational view is that the latter was prompted by a desire to prevent any deep cut in the sugar tariff. Perhaps it was the judgment of the directors of the Spreckels Sugar Company that a small concession to the tariff smashers would avert more serious results, for the letter opens with a protest against the free admission of Cuban sugar.

It will be observed that Mr. Spreckels only says the beet sugar producers can stand a reduction. There is no intimation that they can stand the removal of the duty entirely. On the contrary, every inference to be drawn from the wording is that free sugar is not to be thought of. Taken in that light, it amounts to a representation that some reduction in the duty can be borne, but that the beet sugar industry must continue to have substantial protection if it is to exist. But Mr. Spreckels will probably be called before the Ways and Means Committee, and if so, will explain more clearly the meaning of his letter. That he has given the domestic sugar men a shock and a surprise cannot be disputed, but in the end it may prove that no serious injury has been done or intended.

LABOR IN POLITICS.

The labor unions of Portland, Ore., have caught the political fever, and are preparing to nominate full municipal and county tickets for the forthcoming election. In other quarters signs of a labor movement in politics appear. The election of Mayor Schmitz in San Francisco and other scattered successes seem to have given inspiration to the idea of massing organized labor into a political organization.

To what does this tend? What will be the result?

Undoubtedly the labor unions when united and harmonious are very powerful, especially in certain States and most of the large cities, and they have the aid of sympathetic vote which must always be reckoned with in counting noses. But aside from certain purely local questions, and taking the labor side generally of industrial controversies, the men connected with labor organizations differ among themselves as to the policies of government as widely as do other elements of society. Some believe in expansion and some are opposed to it; some are protectionists and others free traders; a considerable number hold views tending to state socialism, while a still larger body hold directly opposite opinions.

This diversity of opinions will undoubtedly come to the fore should the labor organizations enter the sphere of national politics as a separate political party. Irreconcilable differences will arise that cannot be fought out in the union meetings. Radically opposed ideas on fundamental questions of government and public policy cannot be harmonized as ordinary differences are harmonized, and must produce a cleavage within the ranks of labor.

With this certainty before them, the question presented to the labor leaders for consideration concerns the integrity of the labor organizations themselves. Will not mobilizing them into a political party tend to a disruption of the unions by introducing disturbing elements from the outside into their councils? When they proceed to formulate an affirmative policy, the perplexities of a purely labor party will appear.

THE CANAL COMPLICATION.

Already they are beginning to talk of putting the interoceanic canal matter over till the next session of Congress. A fight has sprung up over a choice of routes. Coming soon after the almost unanimous passage by the House of the Nicaragua bill this is disappointing and discouraging. There is reason to suspect that most of the trouble is made by men who are really opposed to any canal at all while pretending to be ardently in favor of one. They are for anything that will cause strife and delay.

They are for the Panama or the Nicaragua route as the situation determines. They are for fortifying the canal if that will provoke discussion and cause delay. They are against fortifying the canal if that will accomplish the same result. In one case they fear the effects of earthquakes on the canal, and in the other they are dubious about the title. In short, they are for or against anything and everything pursuant to the policy of how not to do it.

The canal's greatest enemies are among its professed warmest friends. Incidentally there is considerable scheming to get in on the ground floor in case Congress authorizes the canal. Between treachery and self-seeking the project has to run the gauntlet of many vicissitudes, for it is combated by powerful interests and astute minds.

Senator McMillan's statement that he did not think the duty on Cuban sugar would be cut down is cheering to the California producers, for he speaks with knowledge of the situation. He comes from Michigan, where there are large beet sugar interests, and has been active in opposing any reduction of the tariff on sugar. Moreover, Senator McMillan is an able and experienced man, who does not express opinions rashly.

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.

Mrs. L. H. Champion, landlady of the Del Ray, a lodging-house at 571 Thirteenth street, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. She retired Saturday night, apparently in good health, but was heard groaning about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. When a servant went to arouse her at 11 o'clock she was found dead. Death is supposed to have been due to heart disease. The decedent was a widow, about 50 years old.

RAILROAD NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND YARDS.

New Rails Will be Laid Between Oakland and Port Costa—Personal Notes of Interest—Company Spending.

Southern Pacific civil engineers at the West Oakland Yards are of the opinion that the proposed million dollar subway from Emeryville to Goat Island will never be built by its promoters, the Realty Syndicate. They claim that the proposed project will never find encouragement at the hands of Congress as that body would not sanction the granting of terminal on Goat Island and thereby supplant the utility of the Island as a naval station.

Another factor in the consideration of the proposed subway by the engineers is the cost of the submarine railway from the shore to the proposed terminal depot on the Island.

The Realty Syndicate plans and specifications estimate the cost of the subway to be one million dollars and the Southern Pacific officials say this sum would not defray half the cost of the proposed work as soundings taken recently on the east side of the Island show a very deep and wide channel there, which is growing larger every year, owing to the fact that the channel carries a swift current caused by the outflow of the Sacramento River waters.

It is also urged that the Southern Pacific with its millions, would pay Uncle Sam an enormous sum to be allowed area on the Island, a concession which from appearances—the Realty Syndicate expects to get for nothing.

The Southern Pacific engineers are also of the belief that a subway is not needed as it is feasible to build a pier near enough to the Island as has been done at the Oakland Mole, for a bridge carrying the railway would have to be built of high cement supports in a current which sometimes runs like a millrace.

To sum up the situation, the West Oakland yard officials regard the proposed subway by the Realty Syndicate as being "an idle dream," too impracticable for serious consideration by men who have been studying the difficult problem many years.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC IS SPENDING MILLIONS.

That the directors of the Southern Pacific Company intend to make their lines in California as good in equipment as any in the world is evidenced by the fact that President Harriman recently let contracts for the improvement of the Central Pacific tracks in the sum of $1,750,000.

This enormous outlay will be used on eighty-seven miles of the Central Pacific line east of Vista, Nevada, in relabelling the road-bed and straightening out all possible curves.

Stone & Company of this city has secured the contract to rebuild forty miles of the eighty-seven named and the work of repair will begin immediately.

The work of relabelling the Southern Pacific tracks between this city and Port Costa is progressing rapidly and will result in much faster time on the tracks being repaired.

A new 17,000 gallon water tank has just been finished at Sheldonsville, Emeryville, as the many gravel tanks found it difficult to get a water supply from the small tank formerly in use there.

The roadbed is being raised eight inches by gravel ballast, and when this work is finished the entire twenty-five miles of track between Oakland and Port Costa will be relaid with 32-pound steel rails, the whole work of repair necessitating an expenditure of half a million dollars.

The gravel ballast is being brought from Alameda creek, near Pleasanton, and is unloaded at present between Emeryville and Fleming's Point, where 200 men are at work raising the track.

The work of filling in the bay west of the Oakland yards is going ahead rapidly, and from present appearances the whole West Oakland yards will soon give way to an extensive residential and business district.

At present occupied by the yard, the work of relabelling the tracks for side tracks for switching purposes.

LARGE SWITCH ENGINE DERAILED IN THE YARDS.
The spectacle of a large sixty-ton switch engine plowing through the soft earth of the West Oakland yards was presented at 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

The accident took place near the foot of Cedar street and was caused by a miscalculation of the engineer of the derailed engine. While his locomotive was pulling a long train of freight cars the engineer ran on to a short spur with too much momentum, and before he could stop, the engine ran off the end of the track into the earth.

The front driving wheels were buried in the ground. A large force of wreckers was busily engaged today in trying to get the heavy engine back on the rails. The locomotive, No. 102, only came recently from the East and is one of the largest switch engines in use anywhere.

BUSY DAYS AT THE OLD LONG WHARF.

Business at Long wharf has been rushing during the week. Agent Dickinson has his hands full to keep pace with the many calls on his attention. PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES.

POPULAR OAKLAND ACTRESS IS THE BRIDE OF EDWIN MORDAUNT.

A dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle from New York says: "The many California friends of Miss Ola Humphreys, the pretty Oakland girl who has been very successful this season as leading lady in the 'Fatal Wedding' company, will be surprised to learn of her marriage recently to Edwin Mordaunt, the leading man of her company. Mr. and Mrs. Mordaunt will soon visit the Coast and spend some time with the bride's parents in Oakland. Miss Humphreys and Mr. Mordaunt kept their secret until the lady dropped into New York from Albany one day this week, and then she had to give way to the one touch of nature that makes all girls kin, and tell it in perfect confidence to her best friend. After that a published notice was entirely unnecessary. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mordaunt are very popular among the profession here, and they are being showered with congratulations."

Mrs. Mordaunt was well known in this city. Her home was in East Oakland where she is affectionately remembered by many friends.

Miss Ethel Hartwick of Berkeley and Miss Jessie Dodge of Alameda will lead the cotillion of the new Friday Portnightly Club, which is to be held Friday evening next in Harmonic Hall, Alameda. This club has taken the place of the old Thursday Night Cotillion Club and will give a dance every two weeks during the winter, alternating with an assembly. A cotillion of three hundred dances will take place before Lent and the season will close with a large ball after Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Chittenden of Oakland were guests at the Marlborough New York last week and will remain some time before returning to California.

The following Oaklanders are registered in New York: St. Denis—E. E. Harris, Holland—J. R. Carpenter, Imperial—Miss Rosenberg, Cadillac—F. S. Barlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoffman were entertained last week by Miss Lottie Merzbach. During the evening a delightful program of musical numbers and amusing recitations were rendered. The Hines, Thomas, Hildebrand, Mal Furst and I. Meyers were heard in comical songs and character sketches, the Messrs. Levin and Miss Hazel Leszynsky sang and Miss Julie Misch and Gus Merzbach contributed to the program. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are soon to leave for the East.

The Hill Club had a pleasant meeting last week at the residence of Mrs. C. Taylor, 415 Broadway, where Mrs. Charles Hooper gave an instructive talk on the present ill feeling between Germany and Great Britain over the Boer question. An interesting article by Albert Hubbard on Royalty, art was read by Mrs. Willis P. Kelly, Mrs. Francis F. Cutting gave a selected reading. The club's next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. F. HE SUGGESTS THE RACES AT EMERYVILLE

THAT IS WHAT MRS. CARLISLE SAYS HER HUSBAND DID.

Because she claims he hugged their servant girl, Mrs. Dady Strickland Carlisle is fighting the divorce suit brought against her by Herbert Leslie Carlisle on the ground of desertion. The taking of testimony was begun before Superior Judge Ogden this morning.

The plaintiff was on the stand this morning. In answer to her attorney, Ben F. Woolner, he told of his marital troubles. They were married in 1893, he said, and have four children, the custody of whom both are desirous of gaining. "One day my wife called me out in the hall," said Carlisle, "and said that she would no longer live with me. After that I had to sleep upstairs on the door. She pleaded with her to return to me, and once when I went she and the servant girl laughed at me, for my great distress. Upon cross-examination by Attorney Black, Carlisle said he did not remember having hugged Edna Ward, a servant girl, now Mrs. Edna Burdett, while she was hanging curtains at her home. He did catch Martha Mitchell, another servant, around the neck and kissed her when they were alone upon the stairs. Carlisle is a painter.
